

SUMMARY-TABLE: FOREIGN POLICY AND REGIONALISM IN THE PLANS OF GOVERNMENT OF THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

THEMES	PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES PROPOSALS
	Ciro Gomes (PDT)	Fernando Haddad (PT)	Geraldo Alckmin (PSDB)	Jair Bolsonaro (PSL)	Marina Silva (REDE)
Pacific Alliance	-	-	-	-	To foster approximation with the bloc
CELAC	-	To consolidate Brazilian approximation with Mexico	To reconsider the Brazilian participation in the articulation	-	-
Regional Integration	Focus on economic industrial policies	Targets the Latin American region	Focus on trade agenda	Mention to Latin American scope	Border-control related issues and international environmental agenda
Mercosur	To deepen free trade area	To strengthen and integrate the production chains	Focus on bilateralism and on concluding negotiations with the European Union as well as other external actors	-	To remove trade barriers and reaching agreement with the European Union
Trans-Pacific Partnership	-	To combat economic agreements of new generation (probable reference to TPP)	Intends to request accession to the agreement	-	-
Unasur	To revitalize the bloc	To reestablish the leading role of the South American Defense Council	To reconsider the Brazilian participation in the organism	-	-
South America	To broaden relations also at the sub-national levels	To reestablish the autonomist bias of action	To prioritize the commercial ties and bilateral relations	-	To implement a proposal on trade liberalization
Latin America	-	To strengthen instruments for financing infrastructure and the defense of the Amazon region	-	To redirect the axis of partnerships with democratic governments	-